

Megan Rauch MBA, BSRC, RRT, RPSGT specializes in pediatric sleep and respiratory care. She is the Director of Pediatric Respiratory Care and ECMO at the Johns Hopkins Children's Center (JHCC) in Baltimore, Maryland. Megan has over 30 years of experience as a respiratory therapist and sleep technologist. She holds a bachelor's degree in Respiratory Care and a Master of Business Administration with a focus in healthcare leadership, both from Boise State University. Prior to her role at the JHCC, Megan served as the Director of Technical Neurodiagnostics Programs for OSF HealthCare based in Peoria, Illinois; she still supports the healthcare system. As the Technical Director, Megan worked to align and standardize sleep and EEG programs across 15 hospitals. Megan served on the AASM Respiratory Therapist and Sleep Technologist Education Committee and Co-Chaired the Advanced Pediatric Subcommittee with Dr. Sumit Bhargava.