

Dr. Azizi Seixas is an Associate Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences; Director, The Media and Innovation Lab; Associate Director, Center for Translational Sleep and Circadian Sciences; Interim Chair, Department of Informatics and Health Data Science at the University of Miami.

He is an innovator, scientist, thought leader, technologist and sleep and circadian sciences expert. Creator of Precision and Personalized Population Health. Voted top 100 most inspiring Black Scientists in America by Cell Press. "I believe in health and wellness for all through disruptive and scalable innovation."

Dr. Seixas received his PhD in Clinical Psychology from Fordham University, his MS from The University of Dallas and his BA from the College of the Holy Cross.